The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sandrolini et al.

Sandrolini et al shows an assembly device for exactly positioning a first part on a second part. The assembly device includes a stand having a vertical and horizontal frame. Element 1 may be termed a latch guide jig movably connected to a drive part 11. Elements 21a,21b may be termed horizontal fixing jigs and 20 may be termed a vertical fixing jig. Statements of intended use such as the type of first and second parts to be engaged by the various jigs in Sandrolini et al is a matter or intended use that has not been accorded any patentable significance. In any case, the Sandrolini et al device is seen to be capable of positioning a hood latch on to a carrier.

Claims 2-4 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
